

DOME STRUCTURAL ENGINEERS

Strategic design. Distinctive results.

Large properties allow most spaces to be designed with creative liberty and little restraint. However, maintaining privacy with an expansive home is an important goal for many clients. This client wanted the challenge to be addressed by Dome Designers, Inc. who had demonstrated abilities in designing large spaces exquisitely and considerately.

Uncompromising performance.

New design features embrace privacy.

When first entering the home, a round rotunda greets everyone. This space encompasses an elegant staircase attached to an all-around, second-floor balcony, which is complemented by roof-level celerestory windows that rise above and adjoin the roofs. The height limitations were resolved by employing smaller roof slopes and a folded-plate area that creates a crown-jewel image over the round foyer. Elegant, two-story-high ceilings and windows add to the lavish look. These new features let more light inside and complement the roof line outside.

The owner wanted a walkout basement that was designed to open directly to the pool area with large windows. This created a wonderful indoor/outdoor entertaining space next to a second kitchen, exercise space and full-feature movie theater.

The majority of the home's rooms look over the pool area. The owner requested privacy from their neighbors, which was achieved with a detached garage at one side and a gazebo on the other side. These design elements surround the pool like arms embracing the area to ensure privacy.

The white brick, white window frames, light-colored lime stone and strategically placed Royal Chateau stone produce a luminous, cohesive appearance. The use of blue stone pavements and slate-stone roof adds to the impeccable luxury.
